J'ai trouvé la solution pour toi dans la FAQ de WUBI :

How do I install on a machine with no internet connection?

Wubi works with a physical Ubuntu Desktop 8.04 Live CD. Wubi.exe is available on the CD itself.

If you do not have a CD, try to find a computer with internet access, and download both Wubi and the required ISO:

- * [WWW] <http://wubi-installer.org/latest.php>
- * [WWW] <http://releases.ubuntu.com/8.04>

Then copy both files within the same folder on the machine with no internet acces. Then run the Wubi executable. If you have internet access on the machine where you plan to install Ubuntu, you only need Wubi (the first link), Wubi will automatically download the other file as required.
