&#9658;Windows 10 Insider Preview, une nouvelle Build 14361 est disponible pour les Insiders,
via Windows Update – canal Rapide

..... sauf pour les Insiders francophones :

Citation :

If you have a French Windows 10 Insider Preview build installed on your PC, you will not receive Build 14361. There is an issue with the French translation process in this build that would revert a lot of text that was used to be shown in French back to English. So we have chosen not to release this build to Insiders whose base build is French. If your base build is not French and you have a French Language Pack installed – you will still be able to install the new French language pack on top of this build, but this issue will also impact you.
